NEW CAREER WIZARD

From the main menu to the first day at the club in six steps. Every step is pre-filled, so a player who only picks a club can press `Enter` through the rest. The wizard ends in one `createCareer` command – the core then builds the world.

PRINCIPLES

- Football, not a form. Crests, kits, formations, the board's target as a table, a contract to sign and tomorrow's back page.
- The club is the difficulty. No difficulty slider; reputation, budget and board expectations set the challenge (GDD 15).
- Defaults everywhere. Only the club has no default. Zero busywork starts at the first screen.
- Delegation is set up, not hidden. Step 4 configures the same responsibilities the manager screen changes later (GDD 4.1).
- One screen, no modals. Steps in the left rail, the career summary always visible on the right, Back never loses input.
- Mouse, keyboard and touch. Every control is clickable and at least 44 px tall; Enter continues, Esc goes one step back; on step 01 it asks before leaving.

BRIDGE CONTRACT

query("careerSetup") → packages, nations, leagues, clubs

command("createCareer", {
  worldPackage, startSeason, seed,
  manager: { name, nationality,
              birthDate, background },
  clubId, mode,
  responsibilities: { area → owner },
  options: { detailedLeagues,
             information, saving }
})

onGameEvent("careerProgress")
  → phase, done, total

OPEN QUESTIONS

- Text fields vs. key forwarding. Unreal forwards arrow keys and Enter as navigation; name fields need them inside the page – still open in the UI spike.
- Unemployed start. Starting without a club and applying for jobs – later, through the same job offers AI managers get.
- Background. Should it only set starting reputation, or also staff relationships?
- Seed visibility. Shown under "Advanced" for sharing and bug reports, or hidden entirely?
- Community packages. Validation errors of a package: block the step or show them as warnings?

TEAM PRINCIPLES

4-3-3

Build from the back

Short goal kicks, play through pressure

Counterpress

Five seconds to win it back

High defensive line

Squeeze space, risk balls in behind

Central overloads

Eights and winger crowd the middle

Compact block

Stay narrow out of possession

Ball in behind early

Hit the striker's runs

DH ASSISTANT'S READ · EASTHOLM

They build through their six, Varga. A back pass to him is our trigger — jump, and the far-side eight shuts the switch.
